Early Morning Fire Destroys Cupboard

Eating Place Owned by Morley Insured for $500

An early Sunday morning fire completely destroyed the Cupboard, night eating place, located between the Sinclair and Murrie's Standard service stations on Main Street. The building, owned by William Morley, was valued at close to $1000 and was insured for $500.

The fire had already practically destroyed the building when the fire department arrived. Two trucks were taken out. It was feared at one time that the stations on either side and the garage might catch since the wind added to the hazard of the fire.

It is believed the blaze started from an overheated coal stove. Shortly before closing, about an hour before the flames were noticed, the stove had been fired up. The alarm was sent in about 5:30.

A fire at Loon Lake Monday night destroyed the Frank Morrick cottage valued at about $400. It has not been learned whether the cottage was insured.

A fire in the Lake Villa Emergency Hospital Monday forenoon called out the fire truck. The fire was extinguished without any damage being done to the building. The fire had caught in some straw in the basement.

The News is issued as a four page edition today, due to the fact that blocked traffic and delayed mails made it impossible for much news matter and advertising material to reach this office in time for publication. BANKRUPTCY PETITION FILED BY PASCHEN IN MILWAUKEE COURT MON.

Lists Liabilities at $314,566 With No Assets

Petition of voluntary bankruptcy for Christian P. Paschen, owner of large model farms in Lake and Kenosha counties was filed Monday in Milwaukee federal court by Leo Vandruhl, Kenosha attorney.

Liabilities of $314,566 and no assets are listed by Mrs. Paschen in the petition, which also shows secured claims of $171,724, mostly in real estate mortgages, and unsecured claims totaling $142,842 by a long list of creditors.

Mrs. Paschen takes responsibility for the bankruptcy, which was properly held jointly by Mr. and Mrs. Paschen, according to her attorney.

The bankruptcy petition was filed in Milwaukee court because Mrs. Paschen lived on part of their former 3,000 acre country estate, Paschenville, located partly in the town of Salem, and partly in Lake county.

Mrs. Paschen is at liberty under bond for an appeal from a sentence he received last July on the charge of failure to pay $50,000 federal income tax for 1927. He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary and fined $10,000.

During the third term of former Mayor William Hale Thompson, Paschen was Chicago city building commissioner. The government charged him as a contractor obtained work from the building department under fictitious names and paid no taxes on such income.

TEMPERATURE OF 32 BELOW IS REPORTED HERE THIS MORNING

Crew of 12 Men Work to Clear Roads
of Snow

SCHOOLS ARE CLOSED

A cold wave in which 15 dead have been reported in Chicago, has swept the entire middle west, during the past three days, tying up traffic, closing schools, delaying trains, and offering road clearing jobs to the unemployed. A temperature of 17 degrees below zero was announced over the radio from Chicago this morning.

A temperature which stood at 32 degrees below zero at 7 o'clock this morning was reported here giving no hope of immediate break in the cold wave which started Monday night with a light but continuous snowfall and culminated Tuesday in blocked roads and delayed trains, practically tying up traffic in town as well as in the surrounding countryside, until snow plows went through and cleared the roads.

A wind which rose in the night, again drifting the snow left the roads in worse condition than before the plows went through yesterday. Schools stayed closed and the crew working to clear the roads was busy again this morning although no men were sent out to shovel snow because of the extreme cold, according to state patrolman, Edward J. Flannery.

Tuesday morning to make the roads passable but on orders received from Elmer Sorenson, Democratic committeeman in the township, the crew was taken off at noon and a crew chosen by Mr. Sorenson and William Morley, also Democratic precinct chairman, sent to work, according to report.

The work of clearing the roads the last three days has been carried on between Richmond and Antioch and Antioch and Fox Lake. Tuesday night the crew worked for several hours clearing on highway No. 173 to allow a truckload of chickens to get through. A stretch east of Hickory Corners had to be cleared the same night to allow an ambulance to come through.

Meroline Train Late

ARE IDEALS OUT OF DATE?

The celebration this month of the birthdays of our two foremost national heroes, reminds us that the present period is one of impoverishment in ideals as well as in financial security for the masses.

Lincoln, Illinois' own hero, despite his practicality and homely common sense, displayed idealism in every phase of his life—frustrated idealism in some instances, but nevertheless an adherence to his principles with disregard for the material benefits which might accrue from them.

Washington, too, was as loyal to his ideals, as to his country, turning traitor to neither. He cared more for honor than for his purse, more for his reputation as a man of integrity than for fame, more for the fulfillment of his task than for the reward.

In this day when "What'll I get out of it" is the criteria for the majority in considering an undertaking, the idealism of our country's early leaders seems mawkish sentiment—the simulated virtue which, viewed in our present leaders, we are prone to regard as the unfailing sign of ulterior motives.

A statement published recently in a periodical characterizes us as a nation of people in absolute revolt from the idealism which lent a brave color to the World War. Undoubtedly our flight from idealism started with the discovery of the empty mockery in that war "for democracy". It is because of our desertion as a people of our ideals that today finds us blindly sure of the futility of life.

We cannot say that the time is any less propitious for idealistic living now than it was the latter half of the eighteenth century or in the days when Illinois was a frontier. We need the foresight to divine what we want today, and then the idealism to move forward toward accomplishment without questioning the reward.

Denial, sacrifice and privation have turned the wheels of progress in the past. Why have we now assumed that living has become futile because we cannot live with facile ease?

I WAKE UP SMILING

A popular song which is sung over radio frequently these days, unlike so many popular songs, has awakened in us a feeling that we'd like to know the writer. "I Wake Up Smiling" he greets the world. We can't help thinking every time the song is announced that the depression would be less depressing if more people put on that smile even along with their ties or their powder before sitting down to breakfast. We have an idea that if it honestly does take only thirteen muscles to smile and three times as many to frown, there are a lot of people whose faces are getting too much exercise these days.

ACCEPT OUR RESPONSIBILITY

A number of candidates have already filed for election in the township, and in the three more weeks left for filing, more will perhaps announce. With a choice to be made, it is up to the voters to pick their favorite candidates.

In national and even state elections, we have heard a good deal in the past about the people lacking an opportunity to gain any accurate reliable information about the candidates placed before them. There is a certain amount of truth in the criticism, for during a national campaign, particularly, we are confronted with a mass of supposed facts half of which contradict the other half.

In our township election, this excuse for passive disinterest, is not valid. We have every opportunity to learn of our township candidates not only through their neighbors but through personal contact.

Our township and village governments are the most democratic forms of government we have for they offer us our nearest approach to an actual voice in the governing. If we want a government in which we can have faith, we must recognize our responsibility in that government.

It is the responsibility of voters of this township to inquire into the aims and principles and abilities of these candidates. There can be no excuse for any uninformed votes being cast.

Altering Mode of Valentines Leaves Cupids Behind for Rolling Eyes and Ardorless Verse

Doves and messages of forget-me-nots, hearts and elaborate paper lace, ribbon bows and verses which rhymed valentines with mine and thine, and shamelessly nude cupids clasping hands in their hands were the accompaniments of February 14 two or three decades ago.

That was before advertisers started suggesting that one buy anything from flea powder to grand pianos as a means of love on this day when we glorify the arrow Eros shot into the heart of Psyche, or something like that.

Valentines, like the drapery of a skirt or the length and breadth of a sleeve, alter with the years. Today's specimens usually portray "buxom young Juliets with blushing eyes, which upon manipulation will roll as well as bulge, slantly proclaiming, "Listen, kid, I'll be your Valentine."

Or, for those who have an aversion to the tenderness of the word "listen" and the general effect of the blushing eyes, there are neat and restrained cards bearing restrained and reserved lines of verse which convey the general impression that the recipient is the object of a certain amount of esteem on the part of the sender.

Not so in the days of the minuet and later, the circle two-step. These verses which came to us from the 1850 period show a freedom from convention in dealing with the subject of adoration. The following examples are extracts from several verses.

"Awake, Awake, O Gracious Heart,
There's someone knocking at the door:
The chilling breezes make him smart;
His little feet are tired and sore.

"Tis Cupid Come with loving art
To honor, worship and adore;
And lest unwelcome, he depart
With all his woe mysterious lore
Awake, awake, O Gracious Heart,
There's someone knocking at the door.

Albeit a most unworthy worshipper
Yet would I send to her,
Some message meet that should her bosom stir.
Well do I know she stands above me far
In all that's good and true;
Hurling in words where God's own angels are.

The following opening lines to a Valentine written also in that period

"Spirit" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 5.

The Golden Text was "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24).
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "How great are his signs! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation" (Daniel 4:3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When mortal man blends his thoughts of existence with the spiritual and works only as God works, he will no longer grope in the dark and cling to earth because he has not tasted heaven" (p. 203).

Use of Gas Tax Money Limited, Kerner Says

Use of gasoline tax funds to relieve the unemployed is limited strictly to relief needs of any township, attorney General Otto Kerner has advised State's Attorney C. M. Swenson of Paxton. Any distribution of funds in excess of the relief needs would be illegal. The opinion dealt with the law passed by the fourth special session last fall authorizing county boards to use their shares of the gasoline tax for relief purposes, distributing it among townships which have the duty of caring for the unemployed.

POULTRY-RAISERS—
Want more eggs?
✓ THIS NEW WATER WARMER HELPS
GET MAXIMUM EGG PRODUCTION
only $2.50 complete

Keeping the poultry house lighted in the early morning and evening during winter months gives hens a long, active day. They eat more feed, drink more water—and lay more eggs.

But hens can't drink frozen water. The benefits of night lighting are lost unless a means of warming their drinking water is provided. We recommend this electric warmer just introduced by the General Electric Company. It is particularly inexpensive and trouble-free. Note these features:

1. It is made of flexible rubber so it can be used in almost any pan without fitting or clamping.

2. A long 10-foot rubber cord plugs it into any electric outlet.

3. It keeps water free of ice crust in containers up to 12-quart capacity.

4. It will not burn out even if the water runs low.

5. It has been carefully tested in the Public Service Company's testing laboratory. Quality is guaranteed.

6. It costs only $2.50 complete, and uses very little current.

FOR A FREE DEMONSTRATION of this electric water warmer, write or phone your nearest Public Service office. One of our representatives familiar with poultry raising problems will call on you and show you how this warmer works. You won't be putting yourself under any obligation. (Other General Electric dealers also carry this equipment.)

NEIGHBOR LEADS TO NEIGHBOR THROUGH THE BANK

YOUR local bank is the treasury of the community. Here people with surplus funds deposit their money for safekeeping.

Here farmers, manufacturers, merchants and others, come to borrow some of this money for their current business needs.

Through the service your bank renders, neighbor lends to neighbor—and the bank is responsible to both.

As evidence of its ability to assume this responsibility of handling other people's money, the bank has to have money of its own. This is represented by the bank's capital, plus its accumulated surplus and reserves.

Your local bank helps to bring together the wealth of your community so that it may be used more effectively for the greater benefit and protection of everyone.

GRANT ATHLETES LOSE TWO FAST BASKETBALL GAMES

Junior Class Presents Play; Orr Coaches Boxing Class

Basketball fans were treated to two of the most exciting games ever played on the home court when Grant met McHenry last Friday night. The Bulldogs came out on the short end of the score in spite of the fight they put up. The heavyweight struggle ended with a score of 20-21 in favor of the opposition. After scoring only 1 point in the first quarter the Red and White rallied to score ten points in the second quarter and to lead at the half, 11 to 9. McHenry pulled ahead in the second half, 12 to 11. The Bulldogs again rallied and ran the score to 16 to 12. During the second half both teams began to sink long shots, and McHenry drew up to the locals with a score of 18 to 15. In the last quarter McHenry decided the game by gaining a five-point advantage. The lightweight teams were so evenly matched that an overtime period was necessary before McHenry could eke out a 17 to 15 triumph.

The Junior class presented the one-act play, "Squaring It with the Boss" as an assembly attraction last Friday afternoon. The play provided thirty minutes of hilarious fun and excitement. The parts were played by Helen Stratton, Clifford Hansen, William Klein, Ruth Stafford, Elizabeth Valenta, and Dale Johnson. Each character played his part to perfection.

Mr. Orr is conducting a boxing class during the eighth period each day. Quite a number of boys are participating, and considerable interest is being shown. Members of the class will take part in an athletic exhibition which will be given at the high school within the next few weeks.

Members of the biology class are planning an unusual program for assembly. Each of the students has selected a subject of biological interest and is preparing a five-minute talk on that subject. On March 5, during a special assembly, these talks will be made to the student body.

Students in the Senior English class have completed the units of American literature, and will now give their attention to vocational and educational opportunity and public speaking. The first part of the course, dealt largely with literature and composition.

Members of the senior class have made arrangements with Mr. Klein, Waukegan photographer, to have the class pictures made. Contrary to the practice of former years, Mr. Klein will come to Grant this year to make the pictures.

Two projects have been added to the required list of work for second year students in manual training. The new projects will deal primarily

F. F. A. BOYS SAVE LAKE COUNTY FARMERS $4,105

The Agriculture boys under the management of C. L. Kuttel conducted a rat and mouse eradication contest. The class was divided into two groups, and the losers gave the winners a party.

The contest was operated on the amount of damage that one of these pests would do. It was figured out that one sparrow would do one dollar's worth of damage, and one mouse one dollar's worth of damage, and one rat five dollars' worth of damage. In this contest 3220 sparrows, 294 mice, and 118 rats were destroyed. By figuring this with the amount of damage these would do, it came to $4,105 worth of grain that was saved this year.

The class also gave prizes to the three leading boys: Paul Nielsen received three dollars for first place with 2600 sparrow heads, 21 mice, and 3 rats; Howard Will received two dollars for second prize with 1220 sparrows, 18 mice, and 4 rats; Howard Bonner received one dollar for third place with 253 sparrows, 20 mice, and 8 rats.

Mrs. Mollie Harin and Mrs. Thomas Madden, Spring Grove, were Saturday afternoon callers on Mrs. William Volbrecht.

after 6 o'clock and covering the ground before 9 o'clock. Tuesday morning the snow was still steadily falling, and a strong wind which had risen during the night continued during the day, reaching its worst Tuesday afternoon.

Wednesday the wind had quieted down and the advent of the sun in the afternoon appeared a break in the cold wave. The wind again rose in the night.

Absences Cause Schools to Close Transportation difficulties forced the schools to close when only a small number of pupils appeared for classes. Towing cars from the garages were called out constantly Tuesday and a number of calls continued to come in Wednesday from motorists, many of whom were stalled in town and in the outlying subdivisions.

Roads within the corporate limits were declared by many motorists to be worse than those out on the state highway where the wind had kept the snow fairly well swept off the pavement. The wind coming from the north left roads running east and west in worse condition than those running north and south.

Until the snow plow went through Wednesday morning, the highway in front of St. Peter's church was so blocked that no car could get through. The plow went through Main Street about 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning leaving a fairly well cleared track.

Trains were on time Tuesday morning, but the early evening train that night, coming from the south, was more than four hours late arriving after midnight. Wednesday morning's mail, coming from the north scheduled to arrive at 6:45, was an hour and a half late, arriving about 8:15.

Classes at Antioch Township High School were not resumed today after a two day vacation declared Tuesday morning when almost two-thirds of the students were absent. One hundred students braved snow and appeared for class, but with the storm continuing, a number of these turned back when they reached the school, fearing they would be unable to get through later in the day.

Many parents brought their grade school children to school Wednesday morning only to turn around and take them back, because it was decided to declare a holiday in view of the small attendance.

A shovel brigade up and down Main Street grew from shortly before noon Wednesday until afternoon when practically every merchant in town had his walk shoveled or was shoveling it. Joe Patrosky of the Antioch Packing House No. 2 had a truck in front of his store loading snow and hauling it away for several hours.

Reports from Chicago indicate that the city suffered more from the storm than the outlying countryside. Three deaths due to the storm were reported in the city. Traffic was completely tied up, according to news bulletins, by the 11.4 snow fall.

Increases Demand for Eggs Press dispatches show that the storm was country-wide, extending from the west to the east and as far south as Texas. Temperatures of 55 below were reported and drifts which left railway tracks under twenty feet of snow.

A peculiar feature of the storm was the effect it had on the demand for eggs. An announcement over the radio, Tuesday, that egg prices would soar because it would be difficult for farmers to get their products to the stores, brought an increased demand for eggs which entirely depleted one merchant's supply.

Eggs Monday were retailing at fifteen and seventeen cents a dozen with farmers getting 12 to 13 cents a dozen. Several merchants stated that if the storm forced egg prices up they would have a better chance of securing a supply because with egg prices down, farmers refuse to market their eggs.
